

DEATH OF JACOB BERG.

An Old Settler Claimed by the Dread Disease Consumption.

The death of Jacob Bergh occurred yesterday morning of consumption. He had been a sufferer from the dread disease for several years. Twice he went on a trip to his old home in Norway and spent nearly a year there in one instance, and though apparently improved the relief was temporary. Mr. Bergh came to Grand Forks in 1881 and opened a photographic studio, and had a very large and profitable business. During his sojourn in Norway Mr. Berg made a large number of views of well known places and scenery, which have had a very large sale in this country since his return. Mr. Berg leaves a widow and five children to mourn his departure. He was a member of Grand Forks lodge I. O. O. F. and the funeral will take place under the auspices of the fraternity tomorrow afternoon from the Lutheran church.
